This viewpoint is located on the summit of An Coileachan (925m AOD). The route to the viewpoint starts to the west of Lochluichart and east of Grudie Power Station, where an access track provides a turn-off to the north from the A832. The track follows the course of the Grudie River to the north-west and then the northern shore of Loch Fannich to the west. From Fannich Lodge, walkers must navigate a route north-east across the steep hill slopes to reach the summit.
